

U. S. School Aid Bill in New Trouble

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sponsors trying to maneuver a bill through Congress to continue federal aid for schools in areas crowded with children of federal personnel ran into fresh difficulties today.

Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., announced that when the measure is brought before the Senate, he will try to tack on an amendment to authorize a two-year-outlay of $650 million for classroom construction.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he will propose an amendment to extend the National Defense Education Act for a year.

The impacted area bill, once passed by the Senate as part of a general aid to education measure, is popular in the House since assistance goes to districts of 319 members.

With all other aid to education legislation locked up in the House Rules Committee, it probably would sail through the House if the Senate doesn't tie some of the other school proposals to it. Such action by the Senate could send the measure to a Rules Committee logjam.

With this in mind, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he hopes the Senate will not load the measure with amendments when it comes up, possibly later this week. He said he wants a national defense education measure passed separately. He noted that the Senate already has approved school construction and teacher salary aid.

McNamara said in a separate interview he is willing to risk House disapproval of a bill combining impacted area and construction aid.

City Reduces Taxes 14th Year in Row

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (AP)—The City Council has done it again.

The council voted Monday night to cut the tax rate—the 14th consecutive year this northern California city has chopped taxes.

The tax rate was $1.98 per $100 assessed valuation in 1948 when San Leandro, then a town of 26,442, started the trend.

The latest cut was just two cents—from $1.20 to $1.18—but San Leandro now has 70,000 residents.

Huntsville Man Accused in Rape Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Chester A. Whorley, 28, of Huntsville, was charged with rape Monday and bound over to the Pulaski County Grand Jury.

He was arrested early Saturday in a residential area where the rape victim reported she was attacked Aug. 5. Other women had complained of a man entering their rooms.

Whorley also was charged with two counts of burglary and one count each of indecent exposure and carrying a concealed weapon. Police said he had an ice pick and a butcher knife when he was arrested. Officers found him hiding under a car after a chase.

Infant Son of R. Bruner Dies

Salary Plan Is Rejected by Chrysler

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Chrysler Corp. has rejected a United Auto Workers demand that its 60,000 production and maintenance workers be paid salaries instead of hourly wages—one of the union's major new contract proposals.

Chrysler told the UAW Monday hourly pay for production workers is used generally in industry and that Chrysler deems this a proper means of compensation for such work.

Neither General Motors Corp. nor Ford Motor Co. has replied to the union's pay change demand.

Chrysler also turned down a union proposal that it join the UAW in urging Congress to pass a wide range of social legislation, including a measure to decrease the 40-hour work week automatically when unemployment reaches a certain level.

"We can't even get an agreement from them that a healthy economy is in the best interest of both the company and the union," Arthur Hughes, assistant director of the UAW's Chrysler department, complained afterward. Gervid Atkinson, Chrysler labor relations director, told newsmen: "Generally, we feel the company should not get into strictly social legislation unless it affects us directly."

Reds Give Boot to Pacifists

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP)—The Communists hustled 35 "Peace Marchers" out of tense East Germany today after the marchers had rejected a Red offer to transport them speedily to Poland.

A spokesman said members of the group, made up mostly of Americans and West Germans, didn't know yet what they would do next. The marchers were on a San Francisco to Moscow trek.

The group had expected to reach Moscow on foot by Oct. 25 to distribute pamphlets explaining the need for atomic disarmament.

More Rain Is Forecast for Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Heavy rains which fed crops in east Arkansas Monday and flooded Springdale in the northwest corner of the state, are expected to continue today.

A heavy cloudy layer over the state is expected to begin breaking up Wednesday, and temperatures probably will begin rising, the U.S. Weather Bureau said. Monday temperatures ranged 10 to 20 degrees below normal. The state's high was 64 at El Dorado, after a sizzling week in which temperatures in the mid 90s were common.

The rain was heaviest in north-west Arkansas. Spring Creek left its banks and flooded downtown Springdale streets and ground floors of some business houses. A movie theater was put out of business. Continued on Page Two

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hanna Dies

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Goodlett Hanna, 82, of Rt. 1, Ozan, Ark., died Monday morning in a Nashville hospital.

Mrs. Hanna was the widow of the late Ford B. Hanna and a member of St. Paul Methodist Church.

Survivors include three daughters, Miss Alma Hanna, Mrs. G. W. Stewart and Mrs. Chester Coleman all of Nashville, and one brother, D. E. Goodlett of El Dorado.

Lions' Light Bulb Sale Next Monday

The Hope Lions Club will hold its annual light bulb sale next Monday, August 21, beginning at 6 p.m. Bulbs will be sold at the rate of seven for $2 — the proceeds going to the Sight Conservation Fund and the Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind.

More than 350 blind persons have received training at the blind center, 87 per cent of all trainees who completed the course having either found gainful employment or become homemakers.

Bread Likely to Rise One Cent a Loaf

CHICAGO (AP) — Housewives throughout the country may be paying a penny a loaf more for bread before long as a result of increased manufacturing costs, baking industry sources said today.

E. E. Kelley Jr., president of the American Bakers Association, declined to affirm the likelihood of the one-cent figure, but he said: "It will be little short of a miracle if bread prices are not increased in the near future throughout the nation."

Americans consume 15 billion loaves of bread annually, about 80 per cent of which is white bread. A penny increase at the grocery counter would amount to about $120 million.

The $2 support price fixed by the federal government on next year's crop wheat is an important factor in a cost boost being felt already by millers and bakers. The current support price is $1.79. Many farmers are holding their hard wheat off the market awaiting higher prices.

Kelley, who heads a bakery company in Lakeland, Fla., said in a statement that the total increased price of flour is greater than the estimated net profits of the baking industry in 1960.

Brandenburg Gate Sealed by Blockade

By JOHN WEYLAND

BERLIN, Germany (AP)—The Brandenburg Gate, long a symbol of freedom and reunification for all Germans, today looks like a strong point in the middle of no man's land awaiting an enemy attack.

Armored trucks block the gate's five passages between its six great stone pillars. Soviet-type tanks are deployed farther back, their long cannon pointing West. East German riot troops stand ready.

Tangles of barbed wire ring the Western edge of the huge circular space surrounding the gate. This is the point between East and West Berlin where demonstrations against the city's division have broken out in the past.

A hulking police water truck, its engine rumbling, waits behind the barbed wire to hurl a hard stream of cold water at anyone on the Western side who gets too close.

The space around the Brandenburg Gate is dominated by armed men in uniform from both sides, watching one another across barbed wire.

Red and white wooden barriers block the road about half a mile this side of the gate. Perhaps a hundred West Berliners stood behind them in a cold drizzle today, looking to the military concentration under the Red flag flying in the distance. They said nothing. Their faces were expressionless. They could get no closer.

A West Berlin policeman, smiling apologetically, explained that this reporter would have to go the rest of the way on foot—and only reporters could cover that last half-mile.

As the reporter walked up the deserted avenue, West Berlin policemen, wearing gray capes over their blue uniforms because of the nasty weather, patrolled the surrounding woods of the Tiergarten, the city's big central park.

They were looking for possible demonstrators who might somehow have slipped into the forbidden area.

At the square, the reporter kept going toward the barbed wire at the border until menaced by the turret of the East German water truck. A photographer who pushed closer was squirted at and quickly retreated.

Two British soldiers in a jeep—this is the British sector of Berlin—were scanning the Communist defenses with binoculars. They had seen nothing during the morning which indicated trouble on the other side.

The West Berlin police stood about or sat in trucks. An officer with a walkie-talkie was keeping in touch with headquarters.

Across the square, in front of the gate, were East German men, in either the green uniform of the riot police or the brown of the militia-type auxiliary forces. Not more than 30 were visible. Others were hidden by the armored trucks blocking the passages.

The police, their security measures effective at least for the time, had nothing to do but wait. But sometime today, tomorrow, the day after, a new measure by the Communist regime may bring demonstrators charging toward the gate once more. If they are not stopped nobody knows what will happen.

Mrs. R. M. Briant Dies at Age 87

Mrs. R. M. Briant, 87, died Monday afternoon in a local rest home. She was a member of the Methodist Church and a life long resident of Hope. She was a prominent worker in the WSCS of the First Methodist Church.

She is survived by two nieces, Mrs. O. A. Graves of Hope and Mrs. Ridley Smith of Santa Ana, Calif., four nephews, Claude McCorkle of Little Rock, Briant McCorkle of Dallas, Phillip McCorkle of Arkadelphia and Ed McCorkle of Hope.

Funeral services were held today at 4 p.m. in First Methodist Church with Rev. R. B. Moore officiating. Burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery with Burdette-Cornelius in charge.

Soviet Goads West; Allies' Reply May Be Trade Embargo

Embargo May Be Hottest Club of West

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists goaded the West today with new restrictions on travel between West and East Berlin as tempers mounted in both parts of the divided city.

The East German Interior Ministry ordered West Berliners to get special entry permits to drive by car or motorcycle into East Berlin. Vehicles of the Western Allied occupation forces were not affected.

The decree, first direct Communist action against West Berliners in the current crisis, was issued with the claim that some had used their vehicles to aid Western spies "in hostile acts" against the East German regime.

West Berliners, 15,000 of whom work in East Berlin and commute daily to their jobs, were exempt from the ban on travel between East and West Berlin which the Communists ordered for East Germans over the weekend.

East German police began turning back all German-driven cars at the 12 crossing points still open along the 25 mile zone border. The East Germans have required entry permits from West German drivers. Continued on Page Two

City Action Produces Job for Reliever

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — The first welfare recipient to take a job with the city under Newburgh's controversial new welfare program didn't last long on it. But city officials said they got a desired result.

Welfare Commissioner Peter Petrillo said the man, who twice had declined city-arranged jobs with private companies, was put to work Monday doing odd jobs around City Hall.

The man worked until noon, then failed to show up after lunch. Petrillo said the man's wife telephoned the welfare office to say he had obtained employment on his own as a painter and wanted to be taken off relief rolls.

A provision of the city's new 13-point program makes it mandatory for able-bodied men on relief to take city jobs. City officials say the program is designed to cut down the welfare bill.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of the local chapter of The National Association of Social Workers charged Monday that the Newburgh, N.Y., welfare crackdown has been built into a "national hoax," in an attempt to revive "Elizabethan poor laws."

Ralph L. Goff said Newburgh officials have spread a giant hoax in order to adopt a punitive program to drive needy and helpless persons off welfare.

"Hunger is not abated or work made possible by the withholding of food and shelter," he said in a statement released to the press. "Newburgh can only incur for itself a higher ultimate expense resulting from increased malnutrition, illness and crime."

Hearing Set Over Boat Fatality

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Municipal Court arraignment is set today for a 14-year-old Mabelvale, Ark. youth held in connection with a fatal boating accident Sunday.

The hearing was postponed Monday. Prosecutor David Whittington said the youth was placed under $1,000 bond on a manslaughter charge.

Protests to Be Filed by West Allies

LONDON (AP)—The Western commandants in Berlin have decided to submit written protests to Soviet authorities against Communist border restrictions, British Foreign Office spokesman said today.

The British, U.S. and French governments are drawing up the protest, the spokesman said, and "I do not expect it will be long delayed."

The decision to make written, rather than oral, protests arose from the intention of the Western powers to make their position precisely understood, it was reported.

The spokesman refused to be drawn into a discussion on West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's statement that the Western powers may cut off trade with the Soviet bloc.

Lincoln Sub Gets 4 Good Shots of 6

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Abraham Lincoln soon will be commissioned as the U. S.'s fifth operational Polaris submarine after firing a one day record of six missiles, four of them successful.

The big nuclear sub left here Monday en route to the Navy's Polaris depot at Charleston, S.C., to load 16 nuclear armed missiles before heading for patrol somewhere beneath the oceans of the world.

The Defense Department would not acknowledge the six launchings. But a reliable source reported all were conducted last Saturday in the Atlantic Ocean near Grand Bahama Island, about 300 miles southeast of the cape.

The informants said four of the rockets had smacked preselected targets more than 1,000 miles away. The other two, he said, did not achieve all goals but were considered partially successful.

Navy Freezes 26,800 for Longer Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy says it will freeze on active duty 26,800 officers and enlisted men who would have been leaving the service.

The men, the Navy announced Monday, will be kept on duty for from six months to a year.

The order is part of the nation's military buildup and is designed to help the Navy expand its manpower from the present level of 626,000 to 657,000.

The Navy is expected to announce shortly a substantial increase in the number of ships in the fleet.

The freeze will affect about 30 per cent of the officers and enlisted men scheduled to leave active service next month and about 50 per cent of the enlisted men scheduled to leave in subsequent months through next June 30.

The extension of active duty applies to both regular and reserve personnel.

George Jessel to Retire in France

WINNIPEG, Ont. (AP)—George Jessel said Monday night he will retire next year and live in France.

The 63-year-old comedian and toastmaster, here for a night club engagement, told an interviewer he plans to settle in Cannes, on the French Riviera, "just a block from the ocean."

Permits to Be Required for Autos

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists tightened the screws on West Berlin today and the West opened a campaign of pressure and protests against Russia and her East German satellite.

U.S., British and French military commandants sent sharp notes to Col. Andrei I. Solovnev, the Soviet commandant at Karlshorst in East Berlin protesting the "illegal measures" taken by the East German regime against travel in Berlin.

With tempers flaring on both sides of the new Iron Curtain, Mayor Willy Brandt called West Berliners to a mass protest demonstration outside City Hall Wednesday.

He issued the call after the Communists turned out troops and tanks to enforce a new Iron Curtain across Berlin.

Possible plans to apply the pressure of trade embargoes against East Germany or the whole Communist bloc were reported from Bonn, Washington and London.

The military commandants' letter called the East German action "the most flagrant violation" of the city's status since the Soviet blockade 11 years ago.

The Western military commandants acted against a background of German demands for more than paper protests against Communist orders that hit by hit are closing West Berlin off from travel in and out by Germans.

The latest order by the East German interior ministry barred West Berlin motorists from entering East Berlin unless they get special permits. West Germans already had been barred except by special permit.

The first order, early Sunday, sealed the West Berlin border to East Berliners. Designed to stop a tide of westbound refugees from East Germany, it also stopped some 80,000 East Berlin commuters who work in West Berlin.

The Communists said they would announce later the procedure for West Berlin motorists to get their permits to enter East Berlin.

Meanwhile, they allowed West Berliners, about 15,000 of whom work in East Berlin, to drive to their jobs as usual. They passed through the 12 gates still left open.

West German motorists, who have been required to get special permits to enter East Berlin for some time, were funneled through two crossing points on the 25-mile border.

Vehicles of the Western Allied occupation forces were not affected by the new order.

The West Berlin Trade Union Federation asking for something more than protests voted for concrete measures, supporting the call Monday night by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer for trade sanctions against the entire Soviet bloc.

German protestant church leaders, fearing a violent explosion of protest in East Germany, appealed to the East Germans to remain calm.

The appeal, signed by pastor Kurt Scharf, chairman of the Evangelical Church, and Bishop Otto Dibelius of Berlin urged East German protestants "to help peace and call for caution, to exhort to love and to spread the faith that overcomes the miseries and problems of life."

ness by water that lapped over the seats.

There was some concern about the safety of nearby Elmdale Dam, into whose reservoir the stream flows. But the rain stopped in the afternoon and the danger was reported past.

No one was injured. Damage may run as high as $20,000, Mayor John W. Powell said the worst damage was to the Apollo Theater. He declined to estimate damage and the owner wasn't available.

Powell estimated damage to merchandise in stores at from $8,000 to $10,000 and damage to city streets at $6,000 to $7,000. Water rose to 18 inches in a bus station. It rushed into a mercantile store, a warehouse, and other business buildings.

The rain was quite heavy in northwest Arkansas, with Ozark reporting 7.75 inches, Fayetteville 4.62 inches and Combs 5 inches. Springfield reported 5.5 inches Sunday but the Weather Bureau had no measurement for Monday.

The Weather Bureau said a cold front passed over the state Saturday, leaving the heavy layer of clouds. The forecast called for showers today and not much change in temperature.

The rain was welcome in east Arkansas farmlands, where it especially helped the corn and soybean crops. The Crop Reporting Service said the cotton crop would benefit unless the rain continues too long.

motorists for some time, in violation of four-power agreements, but this is the first time they have applied it to West Berliners.

Despite the heavy Communist guard patrolling the zonal boundary, West German police reported 42 refugees—including 8 women and 2 children—managed to get across the border during the night. Most of them swam across canals, rivers and lakes that crisscross the border.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer warned in a speech at Regensburg that the Western powers are considering cutting off trade with the Soviet bloc in reprisal for the sealing off of East Berlin to stop the westward flow of refugees. The word from Washington was that suspension of trade between West and East Germany—which last year totaled nearly $500 million—was under consideration.

The Western powers are preparing tough protests to the Soviet Union against the border closure, which they denounced as illegal violation of the postwar agreement for free movement throughout Berlin. At a lower level, the American, British and French commandants in West Berlin already have drafted for home approval a demand that the Russians lift the travel restrictions.

The East German government radio broadcast warnings through the night that the Reds will not lift their border restrictions until the West agrees to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demand for an end to the Allied occupation of West Berlin.

The closing Monday of the Brandenburg Gate, a main crossing point, touched off stone throwing by angry West Berliners and a retaliatory tear gas barrage by Red troops.

As the outburst threatened to turn into a pitched battle, West German police moved in and herded the Western demonstrators back more than a mile from the gate.

East German soldiers armed with machine guns and bayonets stood guard through the night in front of the historic columned gate, one of Berlin's most famous landmarks. Behind them were four horse trucks to deal with any demonstrators. Under the arches were armed personnel carriers and half-tracks, and a few hundred yards off were Soviet-made T34 tanks.

Recovery of Jet-Prop Air Liner Near

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The United States and Cuba, who have not been on speaking terms for many months, got together today to exchange a 40-foot patrol boat for an Eastern Air Lines propjet plane.

An EAL crew was due to leave Miami at 10:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time aboard a regular Pan American World Airways plane for Havana to return the $3.5-million plane hijacked by a Cuban-born naturalized American on July 24.

At about the same time, a Cuban crew was due at Key West to take over a patrol boat valued at $50,000 and return it to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government. Three Cuban refugees sailed the patrol boat to Florida July 29.

The swap grew out of an exchange of notes between the U.S. government and Cuba, sent through the Swiss because the principals cut off diplomatic relations several months ago. Castro himself had suggested the exchange.

After the patrol boat reached Key West, Harris & Co., a Miami advertising agency, obtained a circuit court order attaching it to apply on a $429,000 judgment Harris held against the Cuban government for advertising services.

The company earlier had attached several hijacked Cuban planes and sold them to help satisfy the claim.

Erwin Harris, head of the advertising agency, said he was withdrawing the claim "in an effort to demonstrate national unity," but he gave up the patrol boat without a request from the State Department to do so.

The EAL plane was hijacked while on a flight from Miami to Tampa, New Orleans and Dallas. The hijacker, Wilfredo Roman Oquendo, 36, still is in Havana.

Meanwhile, Mexico asked Cuba to return Charles Albert Cadon to that country to face trial for hijacking a Pan American DC8 jetliner over Mexican territory last Wednesday and forcing the pilot to land the plane in Havana.

Cadon, 25, was charged with robbery with violence, attack on general communications, threats, illegally carrying firearms and violating individual guarantees.

If found guilty on all counts, the Frenchman could get up to 30 years in prison.

It was believed in Mexico City that the Castro regime would be more likely to turn Cadon over to the Mexican government than to the U.S. government, which also asked for him to face charges in Miami, Fla., of crime on the high seas, assault with a dangerous weapon and assault with intent to murder.

Both Mexico and the United States have extradition treaties with Cuba, but the United States has been reluctant to invoke the procedure because it has rejected previous Castro requests for the extradition of various enemies of his from the United States. The United States said they were political refugees entitled to asylum.

Embargo May Be Penalty for E. Berlin

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain, France and West Germany were reported near agreement today on plans to penalize East Germany for harrying the West Berlin escape route for refugees from Communist rule.

Officials of the three West European Allies were to meet with Asst. Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler to work out in detail retaliatory measures which would then be recommended to their governments for action.

At a similar session at the State Department Monday, participants said, the Allied representatives reached general agreement that countermeasures should be taken. Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared in a statement Sunday that the Soviet-supported action by the East German regime to halt the flow of refugees violated East-West agreements providing for free circulation of people and goods in Berlin.

U. S. officials were reported hopeful that the Communist measures cutting off the flight of refugees would not produce an uprising in East Germany. Authorities here saw such a development as putting the Western powers in a dilemma since they have no intention of intervening militarily. It is assumed that a uprising would bring violent repressive measures from East German and Soviet military forces.

Officials said that the Western powers feel that formal protests to the Soviet Union against the sealing off of East Berlin from West Berlin are not sufficient expressions of Western disapproval and that other steps must be taken. Two were reported under serious consideration:

1. Imposition of a ban on travel by East Germans to Western countries. This would mean that the Western powers would no longer issue travel documents or grant visas for East German travelers, which might include persons going on trade missions or other assignments to the West. Travel arrangements for East Germans normally are handled by a special travel office in West Berlin.

2. Suspension of trade between East Germany and West Germany's governments. As this would be a blow to the East German economy which draws such things as sheet steel, machinery and hard coal from West Germany. Officials said that the trade is much more important to the East German than to the West German economy.

Lawsuits Follow City Balloting

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—Losing candidates in two races of the July 25 Democratic primary election have filed lawsuits challenging the results of the balloting.

Virgil D. Poteet filed suit against Dr. T. H. Hickey who was certified as the candidate for mayor after beating Poteet 1,125 to 739. The suit challenges 430 names on the ballot.

Fred Porter filed suit against C. L. Hesselbein, winner of a race for alderman, who received 327 votes to Porter's 178 and 100 for Homer Gray.

Both suits were filed Monday in Conway Circuit Court.

May Store Wheat as Defense Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department Monday proposed 191 metropolitan areas for storage of emergency wheat in preparation for nuclear attack.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, in a talk at Columbia, Mo., outlined the plan that would cost some $70 million.

The plan, subject to approval by Congress, is to be included in civil defense proposals of which President Kennedy is expected to submit to Congress soon Freeman said.

The program calls for storage of wheat in areas of 100,000 persons or more assumed by Civil Defense officials to be possible target areas.

The stockpiles would provide a four-month supply of wheat for each person in the designated areas.

The state-by-state breakdown, with the amount allocated to each community or state given in 1,000 bushels includes:

Says Education Not 'Academic'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The president of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers said today that 'education will not be the academic thing it was in the past, but to be successful from now on must be an instrument for articulating values to the people.'

The president, Carl J. Megel, of Chicago, said: "These values must be consistent with our scientific, cultural and economic world."

In an address for the 45th annual convention of the federation, Megel said education is the prime requisite for the establishment and maintenance of a peaceful world.

Liquor Law Crackdown Felt by Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A city-wide crackdown on liquor law violators has begun here with the arrest of four club and restaurant owners.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs said he invited agents of the state Alcohol Beverage Control Board to come to Hot Springs. The four men were arrested Sunday and charged Monday.

The judge said several places already had been padlocked in a crackdown on sale of liquor and beer to minors and on Sunday.

He said he would instruct Prosecutor David Whittington to seek padlock orders against the establishments of liquor law violators.

Charges were filed Monday against:

Glenn Wheeler, operator of the Eagles Club, for possession of beer for sale without a license and sale of liquor on Sunday.

Lee Martin, co-owner of Jack and Lee's, possession of whisky for sale and sale of beer and whisky on Sunday.

Travis Dean, owner of Dean's Landing, possession of beer for sale without a license and sale of beer on Sunday.

American's Body Found in Lucerne

HERGISWIL, Switzerland (AP)—The body of another American victim of the Aug. 2 bus tragedy was recovered from Lake Lucerne Monday.

The body, that of a middle-aged woman, was not immediately identified. The bodies of six of the 16 American tourists who drowned when their bus plunged into the lake are still missing.

'Riders' Trial Put Off to Next Tuesday

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The appeal trials of nearly 200 convicted "Freedom Riders" will begin next Tuesday in Hinds County Court. They are expected to continue through January.

County Judge Russell Moore today scheduled arraignment for three additional riders after 188 others had pleaded innocent of breach of peace charges.

The riders are appealing City Court convictions for their arrests for refusing to obey police orders to move on while attempting to desegregate transportation facilities in this state's capital city of 70,000.

The first riders reached Jackson last May 24. Since then 297 have been arrested. Some remain in jail.

The three to be arraigned today are John Dolan, 20, of Berkeley, Calif.; George Marion Blevins, 21, of Los Angeles; and Frank Nelson of Brooklyn, N.Y. All are white.

Judge Moore granted the two an additional day after they were jailed on other charges in New Orleans last Saturday and were unable to meet the Monday appearance deadline.

Jerry Lewis Tops Despite the Critics

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Let us try once more to tackle the phenomenon of Jerry Lewis.

Critics belabor him. Intellectuals despair. Fellow cinemans sniff. Yet this lanky, hard-driving, self-confessed neurotic continues to flower at the world's box offices.

Trying to have him tell why isn't easy.

One must persist, as I did during one amazingly quiescent lunch in his dressing room. His dressing room is the kind of place that could be used as the board room for U.S. Steel, and if that mention is payola, then send me a few girders.

I asked Jerry if his last few films have been up to his usual commercial standards.

"I can't tell you because it will sound like bragging," he replied. I told him to try, and he did, quickly.

"The last four negatives we released brought in more money than the entire product of one of our major studios last year," he reported.

I whistled appreciatively and asked him how he accounted for this. He smiled and said mystically, "Every night I say a special prayer for Capt. Kangaroo."

This made no sense to me, and he explained: "I mean the kind of people who look at Capt. Kangaroo on TV. Children. Kids. Little people. That's my audience."

Does he mean that his pictures are patronized solely by small fry?

"No, it's half and half," he said. "Because somebody has to bring the kids to the theater. But the adults look at my pictures like this." He pantomimed a movie watcher gazing disinterestedly at the screen while stifling a giggle.

Lewis continued: "Parents can send their children to a Jerry Lewis picture and not worry. I am very strict with myself. I will allow no low-cut gowns, no suggestive dialogue, no scenes of drinking or drunks, no fights between husbands and wives."

Lewis seems unconcerned about such restraints and is going on his wild way with another Jerry-built comedy, "The Errand Boy."

Teachers Are Suckers, Says F. Rozzell

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, charged today that "public school teachers and their supporters are being played for political suckers."

His charge came in an address prepared for delivery at an AEA work conference at Henderson State Teachers College.

"The governor and the 'Old Guard' in the General Assembly—these are the ones who dominate the Legislative Council," Rozzell said.

He added, "We are kidding ourselves if we think we can develop the kind of educational program our children are entitled to without dealing realistically, aggressively and unrelentingly with this insidious political situation."

Rozzell lashed out at a Legislative Council proposal to use $8.5 million from the state's reserve fund for construction at the University of Arkansas and state-supported colleges.

Such a shift would divert to construction purposes, Rozzell said, "$3 million which could and should be used for public school purposes this year."

power to set priorities and allocations of stocks of materials needed in specific defense projects. It also has large stocks of materials needed for defense production which it could use if it's the other side of the coin of the buildup in U.S. defenses.

So far this buildup—which a misstep in Berlin could either speed up or magnify—has given bounce to the stock market and improved the outlook for many companies whose order books could be fattened.

But if the defense buildup goes further than so far scheduled, controls might again become a political issue. And that prospect worries those who point to past experiences to back their contention that controls hamper more than they help.

The difficulty could arise again if a speedup in defense production runs into industrial bottlenecks. The administration then could ask Congress for controls.

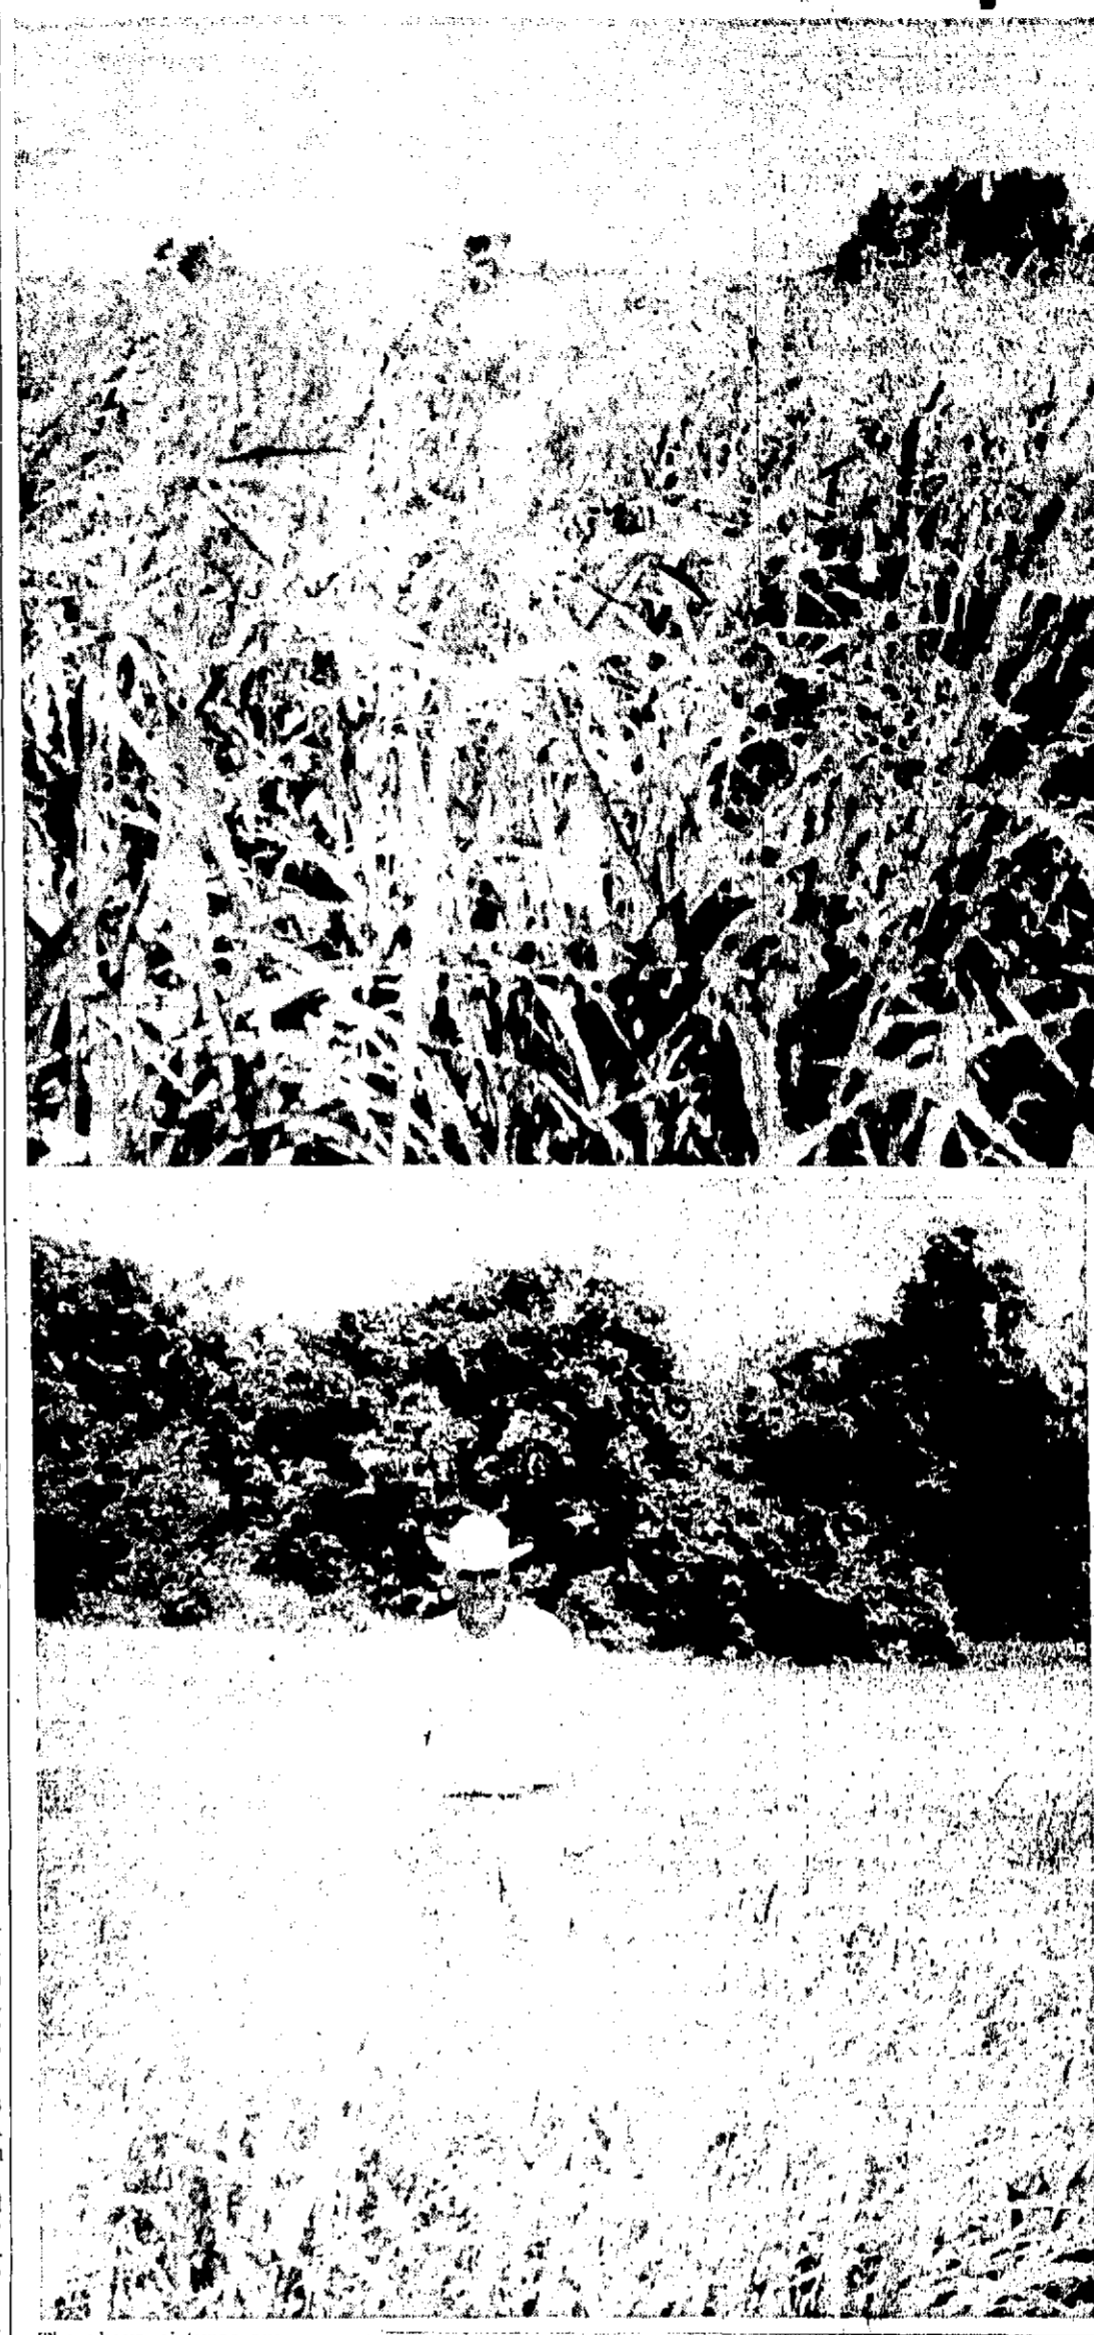

At first glance industry seems to be in prime shape to take the defense buildup in stride.

But even in the apparently smooth-running economy the possibility of trouble is with us.

A strike in the auto industry, with its many ties to the defense effort, could cause a military bottleneck. And the flareup in Berlin could be an added reason for Washington to intervene to avoid or halt such a strike.

Legumes Double Grass Growth on Ned Purtle Farm Near Hope

The above pictures are comparative Johnson grass with single tary peas and Johnson grass with out a legume on Ned Purtle farm.

The tall Johnson grass had single tary peas and was cut for hay only three weeks ago, while the shorter Johnson grass was cut five weeks ago. While either of these are good hay producers, it was very interesting that the legume more than doubled the growth.

Usually cutting Johnson grass for hay three times per year, about the third year the Johnson grass dies out until it is unprofitable to cut, but this is not the case on the Purtle farm. He has been cutting this Johnson grass three times a year for 10 years.

Mr. Purtle was asked what his secret was in maintaining a stand of grass. He said, "Keep your soil nitrogen, phosphate and potash in balance." He went on to say he believed if the nitrogen, phosphate and potash were in balance the grass would fatten cattle faster. Mr. Purtle has some beautiful cattle, pasture and meadows. In some of his pasture, he was carrying two cows per acre, the cattle are fat and anyone could mow 50 to 60 bales of hay per acre at present in this pasture.

His main principals are: First, have good land and keep the fertilization in balance. Second, have a good breed of animals that can convert good grass into meat and third, control insects and disease. If these are well done anyone can grow cattle.

Mr. Purtle has his grass analyzed often and checks the growth rate per day of his animals. He says high nitrogen will produce more grass, but will not put the pounds on cattle, where a balanced fertilization program will maintain grass and put pounds on cattle.

DOROTHY DIX

Could It Be Her Red Hair?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I'm a redhead who has been married 11 months and is ready to quit but can't because I love my husband with all my heart, soul and body.

We have a darling blue-eyed baby boy and should be happy but aren't. My husband only uses me when in the mood then tosses me aside like a soiled bit of tissue. For example, he wants me to get him off to work early; says he has no use for late risers.

I set my alarm for five, have the house tidied, baby and myself dressed and breakfast on table by seven. He strolls in, still half-asleep at 7:30, mumbles, grumbles, falls into his chair, props the morning paper against his water glass and bolts his foot, one eye on the newspaper, the other on the plate. At 7:45, he struggles into his coat, jams on his hat and races to the garage without so much as a peck on the cheek for me or baby. At 11 o'clock he's still in the garage. The jeep won't work. He's taken it apart and can't get it together!

He never takes me out unless I ask and then it's to the corner tavern where he teams up with drinking buddies and leaves me sitting alone like a bump on a log. The only money I lay eyes on is for the grocer, butcher and baker. Never a cent for myself, but he complains that I spend too much! I do everything I can to please him, even wear my hair long. And still our married life is one continuous argument. I'm 18, he 25, could this difference in our ages be the reason? —Wit's End.

Dear Wit's End: Age has nothing to do with your problem. Tackling the wife for granted is a fault common among men: I doubt that your husband is aware of his shortcomings. Use your womanly intuition to get the idea across tactfully. Next time he acts the cat, count 10 before you speak. It takes two to make a fight. You're articulate and obviously, he is not, hence his dumb resentment. If you love your husband as much as you say you do he will eventually respond.

Dear Helen: The soldier boy I love comes home on leave this month. He is 24, I am 17. He feels I'm too young for him. His mother once told me he was very shy when it comes to love so perhaps my being too young is just an alibi. Can any soldier be shy about love?

His parents and mine are long time friends but I never met him till last November when he was on a 30-day leave from Germany. He never said he did or didn't like me. Nor does he mention friendship or love in any letters, but he does write. Am I wasting time? Should I let him know how much I love him or say good-bye? —B.

Dear D.: Let nature take its course. Forcing the issue will get you nowhere. Content yourself with being a friend. The boy, not you, should speak up. No soldier—or any man for that matter—is shy when it comes to that magical combination of love and the right girl.

Dear Helen: What relation are the children of a first cousin to us? If they don't fall into the category of second cousins please tell us why. We have also heard the term "cousins once removed." Does this apply to second cousins? —C. M. S. Spicer, Minnesota.

Dear C. M. S.: Children of your first cousins are second cousins to you or—cousins once removed. "Kissin' cousins" is the colloquial term.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed

Jets Collide But Come to Safe Landing

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—For 20 tense minutes, two damaged jets—a bomber and a tanker—circled high above the Pacific after colliding.

Their skippers talked by radio with Air Force brass and engineers from the company that made the planes, trying to decide whether to ditch 50 miles off the coast or try to land at Mather Air Force Base near here.

Finally, the planes were ordered to Mather. They landed successfully and none of the crew was injured.

Col. Merrill N. Moore told how the KC135 tanker and the B52 bomber tangled but declined to say if the B52 carried nuclear weapons.

"We have occasional missions out of here with thermonuclear weapons," he said. "I can't say whether this plane carried them."

The tanker had fueled the bomber when one of its crew members noticed smudges on the B52's left wing, Moore related.

Lt. Col. Garland J. Smith of Sacramento moved his tanker close to the bomber to take a look.

He had been asked to do this by Capt. Charles B. Layton of Sacramento, pilot of the B52.

The crash ripped two-thirds of the stabilizer section of the tail assembly from the B52 and tore away an engine from the four-engine KC135.

Convict Held for Robbery of U. S. Mails

PINEVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Lee Roy Kimes, 50 year old convict, is awaiting a preliminary hearing Thursday on a burglary charge stemming from one of three post office breakins in McDonald County.

Kimes, of Chester, Ark., was returned here from the Arkansas prison where he was serving an 8-year sentence for grand larceny. He is being held under a $50,000 bond.

The prisoner, convicted of four felonies, is charged with the burglary of the postoffice at Jame, Mo., March 18, 1960. He also is charged with breakins at the Rocky Comfort postoffice, the same night, and the Powell, Mo. postoffice Feb. 17, 1960.

Prosecutor Robert Vocum said the federal authorities have requested his office to proceed with prosecution of the state charges against Kimes.

Man Drowns in Lake Near Taylor

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP)—Tommy L. Deloney, 20, of Springhill, La., drowned in Lake Erling near Taylor Sunday.

Deputy sheriffs said Deloney who could not swim, was floating on a beach ball. The plug apparently came loose after Deloney had floated into deep water. The ball collapsed and Deloney went under.

Joe McGarity, also of Springhill, tried to swim to Deloney but became exhausted and had to cling to a tree.

Deloney's body was recovered.

4 Counties Get Aid for Floods

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman today designated Boone, Madison, Marion and Jackson counties in Arkansas as disaster areas eligible for emergency aid to repair damage from rainfall and flooding in April and May.

He said he will make available $128,000 in emergency funds to be administered through the Agricultural Conservation Program by state and county committees.

2 Million in Art Stolen in France

AIX-EN-PROVENCE, France (AP)—Two million dollars worth of borrowed paintings by French impressionist Paul Cezanne were stolen Sunday in southern France's seventh major art theft in two years.

With police admitting they have scarcely a clue in the latest haul, done, which was showing the a spokesman for the Pavillon Vendôme said the masterpieces, most of them borrowed from Americans and others for exhibit in this ancient city where Cezanne was born, are so well-known that no reputable dealer would buy them.

He expressed fears that the thieves might try to peddle them to a collector who would buy them for his own secret pleasure.

At St. Tropez a month ago, burglars got away with paintings worth $2 million from an unguarded museum by backing a truck up to the door. No trace has been found of these.

Earlier this year and last year paintings worth $1.8 million were stolen in a series of burglaries from a museum, restaurant and private mansions. Most of these were recovered, and several persons were arrested.

Hot Scene Leaves Gleason Cold

PARIS (AP)—Jackie Gleason is nursing a king-sized head lump after losing to the scenery.

A scene in Gleason's new movie called for several lightweight balsalimbars to fall on him. But other parts of the set tumbled down too, and Gleason was pulled out of the debris unconscious.

A doctor checked the comedian, and after a rest he continued work on final scenes for the movie "Gigol," which Gene Kelly is directing.

SUSPENSETTE

A Short Short Story

OLD-FASHIONED GIRL

By RUSS WINTERBOTHAM

Scholars and statisticians have not come up with any figures on the present day popularity of the Old Fashioned Girl.

Nor is the term "old fashioned" well defined. Sylvia, for example, was old fashioned but not a throw-back to the immediately preceding generation of flappers, with their spit curls, Charleston and bathtub gin. Her mental processes and manners identified her with the period of crinoline dolls, the mauve decade, when temple curls and easy blouses were in style.

Forest and Chester, two mature bachelors, were fond of all sorts of old fashioned girls in general, and in particular they adored Sylvia. Each fell ardently, but circumspectly, in love with her.

Her clothes were not old fashioned, for bustles and hoop skirts would have been conspicuous and no old fashioned girl is that. Sylvia wore modern, but conservative, clothing. But even in gowns of the latest style, one could easily conceive of her being in place upon a tree-lined street full of horse-drawn carriages.

Sylvia was strictly from the low-ery era. This was the age in which women uttered low cries to express their feelings.

Forest was not old fashioned, but he liked femininity, and Sylvia had that above all other things. She was not emancipated woman, Forest decided.

Chester, likewise, was a product of the space age virility, but old fashioned dolls appealed to his protective instincts. Chester liked a girl who would blush at the mention of legs and who wouldn't be caught dead with a cocktail glass in her hand.

Chester and Forest wooed with utmost decorum, the only way Sylvia would have it.

In their offices, on the street, or in a tavern, they would nod cordially, smile friendly and greet warmly. No one could tell they were rivals and foes.

On one of these occasions, in a tavern, Chester allowed Forest to buy him a Martini, very dry.

"To an old fashioned girl," said Forest, raising his glass. "May the better man win her." Of course Forest believed he was the logical winner.

Chester, also believing he was the better man, drank to this and put his glass on the bar. Aloud, he said: "I hope so, but it may not come out that way."

"Indeed?" asked Forest.

"Yes indeed," said Chester.

"Luck may decide the issue."

"Fiddle-faddle," replied Forest.

"Sylvia is a young woman of taste and discernment. She'll choose on the basis of merit. Chance will have no part in it."

"Sylvia is an old fashioned girl. Very old fashioned," said Chester cryptically.

"Of course. That's why I love her," Forest said. "And she's conservative. Unlikely to make a rash decision."

Chester drained the last of his Martini. "I saw her in an antique shop yesterday."

Forest appeared puzzled. "And what has that to do with luck? So she's interested in antiques. What could be more in character for an old fashioned girl?"

Chester sighed and fingered the glass. "She was looking at a set of dueling pistols," he said.

Forest considered the news in silence. Then: "Your glass is empty, friend. May I buy you another Martini?"

"This one will be on me, old pal," said Chester.

This time they drank to modern women and a riper maturity.

THE END

One could imagine her on a street full of horse-drawn carriages.

Bad Times for Phils, 17 Times Losers

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — These are quiet, long and tiresome days for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Nobody tries to break down the dressing room door to get autographs. There are no crowds milling around before or after the games.

These are the last-place Phillies. They've lost 17 games in a row. Their record is a horrible 81 defeats against a mere 30 victories. Yes, things are quiet.

And it's quiet inside the dressing room.

Sitting in the middle of the room, sipping a coke is Lee Walls. You can hear the shower sprinkling. Then, in answer to a question, Walls begins talking, very softly.

"Tough? You can't imagine how tough it is. Nobody likes to lose. But that's the way it is when you want to build a club and you have to go with kids. I'm 28 and I was the oldest player in that starting lineup today."

"The trips keep getting longer the more we lose but you can't seem to do anything about it. We lose a couple of one run games and then we get bombed."

"Oddly enough this team has good spirit. Nobody goes around blaming anyone else for the losses. We're all trying to do our best. One of these days we'll break out of it. It just can't last."

Leaning against a rail is outfielder Wes Covington, who played with Milwaukee's pennant winners in 1957 and 1958 and lost the chance of becoming a super star because of leg injuries.

"This is (General Manager) John Quinn's pattern," mused Covington. "He did the same things with the Braves until he got a championship. You go with the kids, you suffer while hoping some day they'll develop into a winner. But it'll pay off some day."

The National League losing record is 115 games by Boston in 1895. The Phils must win 10 more to keep from breaking that mark. It's a record they don't want.

Showdown in Nat'l, Reds vs. Dodgers

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — More than 100,000 people are expected to show up at the Coliseum the next two nights, hoping to discover whether the Cincinnati Reds can still be taken seriously—or just taken, period.

A crowd of 50,000 is expected tonight, when the Reds will start right-hander Joey Jay (16-7) against Dodger southpaw Sandy Koufax (13-7) in the opener of the three-game series. Two games will be played Wednesday night.

The Dodgers, who dropped a 5-0 decision to St. Louis Monday night, have won 19 of their last 23 games and go into the series leading the second-place Reds by two games. Cincinnati, idle Monday, has lost 16 of its 32 games and 6 of its last 9. The Reds won three of four in their last series at the Coliseum but the Dodgers hold an 8-7 edge in the season series.

If the two clubs have any admiration for each other, they have done a skillful job of concealing it. Their relationship was something less than a desperate love affair even before Dodger right-hander Don Drysdale was thrown out of a game earlier this season for delivering a pitch that struck Cincinnati's Frank Robinson on the arm.

Relief pitcher Jim Brosnan of the Reds did not materially strengthen the bond between the two clubs when he wrote recently in a national magazine that the Dodgers have all the dirty players in the National League.

The Big Brothers organization will take 100 Little Brothers to tonight's game. And that may be the only demonstration of brotherhood in the entire series.

Ant colonies keep rose aphids as they were cows, apparently to enjoy the nutritious honeydew they excrete.

Foreign Aid Battle Still on in Senate

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hotly contested amendments to President Kennedy's long-range foreign aid program come up for Senate votes today.

Attracting the most attention is a proposal by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa. It would require an annual congressional committee review of the program with the power to put limitations on each year's spending if "national policy shall so require."

The proposal was stirring up almost as much controversy as the big fight over presidential authority for Treasury borrowing to finance Kennedy's five-year, $8.8-billion program of development loans to needy nations.

Kennedy won that first fight Friday night when the Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., which would have required yearly financing by congressional appropriations. The vote was 56 to 39.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, favored the Hickenlooper amendment over other control proposals on which the Senate will vote under a total three-hour debate limitation.

But Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., who joined nine other Republicans in opposing the Byrd amendment, declared the Hickenlooper proposal "would destroy what we did Friday night."

He contended the Appropriations Committee would still have power to recommend limitations in development loan spending even if it could not cut the money available to the loan agency.

But Fulbright said the Hickenlooper amendment does no more than "spell out the details if what the bill itself provides."

Fulbright told the Senate the pending $4,326,500,000 foreign aid bill, in which $1,187,000,000 of development loans for this year are incorporated, brings the loan program under the Government Corporation Control Act.

Yanks Open 3-Game Stand With Chicago

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It may read New York vs. Chicago in the American League schedule, but it's really Whitey Ford, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris vs. the records tonight when the first-place Yankees open a three-game home stand against the White Sox.

Ford, the stubby southpaw who is the majors' lone 20-game winner at the moment, is shooting for his 15th consecutive victory. That would be a Yankee record. Whitey tied the club high of 14, set by Jack Chesbro in 1904, when he beat Los Angeles last Thursday for a 20-2 record.

No American League pitcher has won 15 in a row in 24 years — not since Johnny Allen did it for Cleveland in 1937.

Mantle and Maris each need 16 home runs to break Babe Ruth's record 60 of 1927. Each has clubbed 45, putting them 15 games ahead of Ruth's pace. Maris could join a tight little cluster of clouters who have hit 46 or more in one season in the AL. Only six have done it: Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg, Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio, and Mantle.

The Mick, who hit 52 in 1956, could join Ruth (nine times), Gehrig (four) and Foxx (three) as the only sluggers who have hit 46 or more at least twice in their careers.

Maris also has a shot at the major league record for most home runs hit against one club in one season. Gehrig set the mark with 14 against Cleveland in 1936. Maris already has hit 10 against the White Sox, and the Yankees have 6 games remaining against Chicago.

Meanwhile, back in the bunch, Minnesota beat Kansas City 6-2, and Los Angeles whipped Washington 5-1 Monday night in the only AL games scheduled.

In the National League, St. Louis stopped Los Angeles 5-0 on Ernie Broglio's five-hitter and shaved the Dodgers lead over idle Cincinnati to two games. Milwaukee beat Pittsburgh 8-3, and Chicago rapped Philadelphia 9-2.

The Twins socked the A's and loser Jerry Walker (5-9) with Harmon Killebrew's 34th home run and Billy Martin's third. Martin's shot, with two men on base, wrapped it up on a four-run third inning. Winner Jim Kaat (5-12), a left-hander, went all the way and had the A's shut out on two hits until Deron Johnson and Joe Pignatano homered in the seventh.

Lee Thomas hit a home run, a triple and a double for the seventh-place Angels who now have a 7-5 record and a half game edge over the eighth-place Senators in the season scrap between the AL's two new clubs. Ted Bowsfield (9-4) was the winner and John Gabler (3-5) the loser.

Process black-and-white from Contax Kodachrome frames, Alex. H. Washburn

THE PICTURES WERE MADE IN THE EDITOR'S BACK yard by a tedious but tried-and-true system: The camera and electronic flash were set up about five feet from the feeding station, and the photographer then retired to a chair 30 feet away, with a long rubber tube and bulb controlling the shutter.

THE BIRDS DON'T SEEM TO MIND EITHER THE presence of the camera or the occasional flashes. At five feet, with a 3-X telephoto lens the effect was to virtually fill a 35mm. color frame, making the bird four feet high on a projection screen. The film was Eastman's new Kodachrome II.

FOR NEWSPAPER REPRODUCTION IT WAS NECESSARY to copy the color frames on fine-grain German Adox KB-14 in the Zeiss Contaflex (a microscope device), and make the enlargements from the black and white negative.

Shreveport Is Hurdle for the Barons

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Birmingham fails to win the Southern Association pennant, the Barons can blame the troublesome Shreveport Sports, a team that isn't even likely to finish in the first division.

Birmingham led the pressing Chattanooga Lookouts by only half a game and .003 points today after Shreveport humbled the Barons 9-1 and Chattanooga whipped third-place Atlanta Monday night 8-6 in 13 innings. Nashville, Lourenco the Macon Peaches 14-6, and Mobile and Little Rock were rained out.

Shreveport's one-sided victory over Birmingham left the Sports with an 11-4 advantage over the league leaders for the season with three games to go. Shreveport's Dale Willis blanked the pace setters on three hits after permitting a run on two walks a sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly in the first inning.

Manager Les Peden drove in the tying run for Shreveport with a double in the second inning, and the Sports then feasted on Birmingham pitching at the rate of two runs per inning for the next four frames.

Cal Emery's 21th home run, a three run wallop, capped a Chattanooga comeback in the 12th inning at Atlanta and made a Cracker two-run rally futile in the bottom of the fourth extra inning.

Nashville roughed three Macon pitchers for 19 hits, including home runs by Buddy Gilbert, Bob Meisner and Glen Merklein. The Vols captured their seventh victory in the past eight games.

Chicago — Kenny Lane, 115; Muskegon, Mich., outpointed T. J. Jones, 147; Chicago 100;
Oakland, Calif. — Carl Boholz Olson 177-2; San Francisco outpointed Roque Marcilla, 153; Boise, Idaho 100;
Miami — Ike Vaughn, 147; Cincinnati, outpointed Vince Bonomo, 147; New Orleans 167.

Stolen bases—Wills, Los Angeles, 147; New Orleans 167.

Strategy at Plate Ruins L. A. Dodgers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Do you pitch to a .122 hitter with two on, two out and first base open with the pitcher the next batter in the second inning of a scoreless game? Or do you walk him intentionally, loading the bases, to get to the pitcher?

The Los Angeles Dodgers have only a two game lead in the National League pennant race at the moment because they decided to walk the .122 hitter, Alex Grammas, Monday night. Pitcher Ernie Broglio then followed with a two run single — and a five hit shutout — as St. Louis beat the Dodgers 5-0.

That whittled half a game off the Dodgers' lead over Cincinnati as the second-place Reds moved into Los Angeles for the opener of a three-game series tonight.

Cincinnati was idle Monday, but still hopeful Milwaukee rapped Pittsburgh 8-3 and the Chicago Cubs thumped Philadelphia 9-2 for the Phils' 17th consecutive defeat.

In the only American League games scheduled, Minnesota beat Kansas City 6-2 and the Los Angeles Angels defeated Washington 5-1.

The move that missed for the Dodgers, ending their winning streak at six games, followed singles by Stan Musial and Carl Sawatski. When Grammas came to the plate, the Cards' utility infielder was hitless in 32 at-bats in a slump that stretched over 20 games going back to June 26.

If the Dodgers thought Grammas was about due, they were right. He collected two singles after the Cards' three run second inning and came around to score on both.

Broglio, a .143 batsman (7-for-49) when he stepped in against Don Drysdale in the second inning, gave up nothing but singles. He walked four and struck out seven while gaining his first complete game victory in more than two months for a 9-10 record. This was the second shutout of the season for Broglio, a 21-game winner last year and his first since he blanked Cincinnati on April 15.

The fourth - place Milwaukee Braves, still 10 1/2 games out of first after winning 16 of their last 24, made it four in a row behind 6-2-3 innings of two-hit, shutout relief by rookie Tony Cloninger (3-2). The young right-hander took over from starter Bob Buhl in the third inning, when the Pirates built a 3-1 lead, and checked the champs on a pair of singles the rest of the way. Roy McMillan drove in four

Alonzo Stagg Will Be 99 Wednesday

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — The dean of American sports figures, Amos Alonzo Stagg, celebrates his 99th birthday Wednesday, fondly recalling 70 years in football.

His shoulders now stooped, his eyesight impaired, but his mind quick, the grand old man agreed that football had kept him young and he doubts he could have devoted the 70 active years to any other pursuit.

Mr. Stagg, as he was known to the thousands of athletes who played for him, will be honored at a civic luncheon Tuesday. Then he and his wife of 67 years, Stella, will spend a quiet day with their family Wednesday.

Born at West Orange, N.J., in 1862, before football was invented, Stagg starred in the game at Yale and then coached 41 years at Chicago before retiring at the mandatory age of 70. He promptly came here to continue his head coaching career at College of the Pacific.

He is the only man named to the Hall of Fame both as a player and as a coach.

Asked his secret of longevity, Stagg replied: "Why, I don't know as I have any single secret, but I believe in behaving yourself morally and spiritually."

On football's future, he "thinks well of it" but adds: "I think too much effort is toward, not inventiveness of play, but on securing material. I am not in favor of recruiting and the policies used in recruiting."

"If they're football players, take 'em as they are. I had a policy of not recruiting. I felt it was my job to take 'em as they came."

Studying for the ministry at Yale in 1884, Stagg turned out for football because some buddies did. His first day of practice decided his life.

"I liked the roughness and excitement of practice and later the games," he recalls. "Football was full of vitality and was very stimulating to me."

He remained active in coaching until last year, when he finally stepped out as advisory coach at Stockton (junior) College here. A year ago he also was awarded the Gold Medal of the National Football Foundation with the inscription: "To Amos Alonzo Stagg, who of all men has done the most for American intercollegiate football."
